

The Wrath of Garlic: Part 5

Realm of the Elders

Tien and Chout-zu were training in the Hyperbolic Time chamber, "Tien,"said Chout-zu "It's working, were going to beat Garlic I know it!" "Yeah Chout-zu I feel it too" Tien replied training as hard as he could, it had been a year now that they had been in the chamber "Three more years Chout-zu, that's all we need" Tien said. They continued to train while on another planet.

On planet Nemek the Dragon was summoned and awaited the wishes "Hey Trunks let me handle these wishes" Tapion suggested "Sure Tapion go ahead" replied Trunks "Ok Tibue ask him to repair this" Tapion bought out pouch and in it were many shards, Tibue wished the wish in his Nenekian tongue and the shards came together to rebuild the Holy Flute. "Now ask him to restore Nemek." Tibue smiled and answered the wish, the Dragon then brought back Nemek's beauty, Now I want him to open a portal the Elder Realm." Tibue wished the third wish and the Eternal Dragon created a portal that looked like a tie-dye spiral "Never thought I'd see this again" Minoshay committed as he jumped through Tapion followed and then Trunks. The Elder Realm was tie-dye all around, the three warriors ventured into the realm and finally came upon the row of elders "what do you want" demanded the Elders "Elders, I am Tapion and I wish a deed be done" said Tapion "Tell us what is it" asked the Elders, Tapion took Trunks sword Minoshay's sword and his and Minoshay's flute "Please Mighty Elders combine the twin Holy swords and flutes to make two supreme weapons" "It is done" the Elders replied as both flutes and swords shined a bright gold and combined. The new sword the Halo sword was Golden and had a luminous shine about it and the new flute the Halo flute was ivory trimmed with gold. Tapion put the new weapons up and the trio was warped back to planet Nemek. "Now we have what we need." Trunks said with a smile "Now time to go home." the three warriors borrowed a Nemekian space ship and set off for Earth.

On Earth Tien and Chout-zu finished their training and took their first step out into the open, Tien wore his Buu saga outfit but his cape was brown tunic was green and pants were brown and Chout-zu wore the same outfit with the original colors. They were met by another duo Cell and Freiza. "Lord Garlic wants you two, dead or alive" The destructive duo got into stance and so did Chout-zu Tien still stood normal. Freiza and Chout-zu disappeared and reappeared fighting at full force still Tien stood and stared right though Cell. Cell charged Tien and went to punch him but Tien in a flash blocked it, still looking Cell in the eye Tien gave Cell a left hook sending the demented android of the lookout. Freiza and Chout-zu were battling ferociously until Chout-zu slammed his elbow in Freiza's purple chest then Chout-zu uppercutted the white warlord and smiled "Tien taught me this, Kikoho!" the tiny emperor sent a beam of light at Freiza destroying the tyrant. Tien was waiting for Cell to return when the green beast did he received Tien's fist in the mouth shattering Cell's teeth and bursting his lips Cell fell to his knees in pain, Tien's middle eye lit up in light and shot a beam through his back. "Tien I can't believe it that was too easy!" Chout-zu was eccentric with his new found power "Chout-zu!" Tien said "we'll rest today at Korin's Tower then we will attack. The two heroes retired at Korin's Tower were Tien appeared to have a nightmare.
